Singer's Sewing Machines.

ALL PERSONS who desire to obtain full and reliable information respecting SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES—their price, capabilities and advantages, improvements, method of working, terms of procuring them, and all other particulars connected with them, can obtain the same by applying at our office,

No. 323 Broadway, New York, or by letter or in person, for

I. M. SINGER & CO'S GAZETTE.

The paper is devoted entirely to the Sewing Machine interest. Copies will be supplied gratis and unstamped.

The unparalleled success of our Sewing Machines has induced several fraudulent imitations to claim, besides numerous infringements of our patents, some fifteen. Suits for the infringement of our patents have recently been decided in our favor in the U. S. Circuit Courts in New York and New Jersey. In these suits the claims of the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company, for the Fabric to be Sewed to the Surface to be Hemmed, by a yielding pressure, in Sewing Machines, has been established. The Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company's Lake Sewing Machines, as we allege and maintain, infringe three distinct patents owned by us. Proceedings against them in several of the U. S. Courts, which will soon be tried. We hereby caution all persons not to buy any infringing Machines, for they can be compelled by law to stop using the same, and to pay costs and damages.

Agents wanted to make sales of our new and improved machines exchange old machines for new, and to whom steady employment is offered. Machines for the business, a rare opportunity for persons of energy and industry.

OFFICE of the Commissioner of Lotteries.—Baltimore, April 18, 1856. The undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from all parts of the country, making inquiry in relation to Lotteries with which the country is flooded, which purport to be "decided by the laws of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters at once, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Drawings are frauds, that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries of Cleveland, Ohio, are impostors, and that Lottery & Stanley & Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also impostors and all Lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Commissioner for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of RICHARD FRANCE & SON, as Managers, and they have no other agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some licensed venders for the State of Maryland. Any persons having business under him through this office, or who wish tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

Commissioner of Lotteries for the State of Md.

[Copy of a Letter.]

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8, 1856.

Messrs. C. & J. Marshall, Gentlemen:—At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper-coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them, but a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) JOHN D. FARDY & BRO.

Cheap & Convenient Building, Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Door Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality; either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has now become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing before-hand the cost of a dwelling house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of Mr. S. Jackson, on Exchange st., of which he is agent, where any article may be obtained or large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and as well organized is the business that no one should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods.

Dr. Kane: The Arctic Explorer.

A SKETCH BY DR. WILLIAM ELDER.

When a man's life is heroic, and his name has passed into history, the world wants to know him personally, intimately. The "grave and reverend chronicler," passing over beginnings, presents him abruptly in his full-grown greatness; men render the admiration earned, but the sympathetic emulation awakened is concerned to know how he grew into his maturity of excellence.

Doctor Elisha Kent Kane is not quite thirty-four years old, yet he has done more than circumnavigate the globe; he has visited and traversed India, Africa, Europe, South-America, the islands of the Pacific, and twice penetrated the Arctic region to the highest latitude attained by civilized man. He has encountered the extremest perils of sea and land; in every climate of the globe; he has discharged in turn the severest duties of the soldier and the seaman; attached to the United States Navy as a Surgeon, he is, never the less, engaged at one time in the coast survey of the tropical ocean, and in a month or two we find him exploring the frigid zone; and all the while that his personal experiences had the character of romantic adventure, he was pushing them in the spirit of scientific and philanthropic enterprise.

As a boy his instinctive bent impelled him to the indulgence and enjoyment of such adventures as were best fitted to train him for the work before him. His collegiate studies suffered some postponement while his physical qualities pressed for their necessary training and discipline. It was almost in the spirit of truancy that he explored the Blue Mountains of Virginia, as a student of geology, under the guidance of Professor Rodgers, and cultivated, at once, his hardihood of vital energy and those elements of natural science which were to qualify him for his after services in the field of physical geography. But in due time he returned to the pursuit of literature, and achieved the usual honors, as well as though his college studies had suffered no diversion—his muscles and nerves were educated, and his brain lost nothing by the indirectness of its development, but it was rather corroborated for all the uses which it has served since. He graduated at the University of Pennsylvania—first, in its collegiate, and afterwards in its medical department. His special relish in study indicated his natural drift: chemistry and surgery; natural science in its most intimate converse with substance, and the remedial art in its most heroic function. He went from his Alma Mater a good classical scholar, a good chemist, mineralogist, astronomer and surgeon. But he lacked, or thought he lacked, robustness of frame and soundness of health. He solicited an appointment in the navy, and upon his admission, demanded active service. He was appointed upon the diplomatic staff as surgeon to the first American Embassy to China.—This position gave him opportunity to explore the Philippine Islands, which he effected mainly on foot. He was the first man who descended into the crater of Taal; lowered more than a hundred feet by a bamboo rope from the overhanging cliff, and clambering down some seven hundred more through the ecorse, he made a topographical sketch of the interior of this great volcano, ebullient a bottle of sulphurous acid from the very mouth of the crater; and although he was drawn up almost senseless, he brought with him his portrait of this hideous cavern, and the specimens which it afforded.

Before he returned from this trip, he had ascended the Himalayas, and triangulated Greece, on foot; he had visited Ceylon, the Upper Nile, all the mythologic region of Egypt; traversing the route, and making the acquaintance of the learned Lepsius, who was then pursuing his archeological researches.

At home again, when the Mexican war broke out, he was refused to be removed from the Navy Yard to the field of more congenial service; but the government sent him to the Coast of Africa. Here he visited the slave factories, from Cape Mount to the river Bonny, Souza, got acquainted through the infamous Da Souza to the baracoons of Dahomey, and contracted, besides, the Coast Fever, from the effects of which he has never entirely recovered.

From Africa he returned before the close of the Mexican war, and believing that his constitution was broken, and his health rapidly going, he demanded an opportunity for service that might crowd the little remnant of his life with achievements in keeping with his ambition; the President, just then embarrassed by a temporary non-intercourse with General Scott dispatches to the General, of great moment and urgency, which must be carried through a region occupied by the enemy. This embassy was matic, and so ill suited to the character of the man, that we are tempted to detail it. On his way to the Gulf he secured a horse in Kentucky, which as a knight errant would have chosen for his companion and sharer of his adventures. Landed at Vera Cruz, he asked for an escort to convey him to the capital, but the officer in command had no troops to spare—he must wait, or he must accept, instead, a band of ruffian Mexicans, called the Sipy Company, who had taken to the business of escort and trickery for a livelihood. He accepted the offer, and went forward. Near Puebla his troops encountered a body of Mexicans escorting dispatches to Gen. Scott, which discomposed the Sipy Company had the advantage of the ground. At the first instant of the discovery, and before the rascals fully comprehended their involvement, the Doctor shouted in Spanish, "Bravo! the charge!" And down they went upon the enemy; Kane and his gallant Kentucky charger ahead. Understanding the principle that sends a tallow candle through a plank, and that the momentum of a body is its weight multiplied by its velocity, he dashed through the opposing force, and turning to engage after breaking their line, he found himself fairly surrounded, and two of the enemy, giving him their special attention. One of these was disposed of in an instant by rearing his horse, who with a blow of his fore foot, floored his man; and wheeling suddenly, the Doctor gave the other a sword wound, which opened the external iliac artery, and put him hors de combat. This subject of the Doctor's military surgery was the young Maximilian. The brief melee terminated with a cry from the Mexicans, "We surrender." Two of the officers made a dash for an escape, the Doctor pursuid them, but soon gave up the chase. When he returned, he found the ruffians preparing to massacre the prisoners. As he galloped past the young officer whom he had wounded he heard him cry, "Senor, save my father." A group of the guerrilla guards were dashing upon the Mexicans, huddled together with their lances in rest. He threw himself before them—one of them transfixed his horse, another gave him a severe wound in the groin. He killed the first-lieutenant, wounded the second-lieutenant, and blew a part of the colonel's beard off with the last charge of his six shooter; then grappling with him, and using his fists, he brought the party to terms. The lives of the prisoners were saved, and the Doctor received their swords.—As soon as General Gaona could reach his son, who lay at a little distance from the scene of the last struggle, the Doctor found him sitting by him, receiving his last adieus. Shifting the soldier and resuming the surgeon, he secured the artery; and put the wounded man in condition to travel. The ambulance got up for the occasion, contained the once the wounded Maximilian, the wounded second-lieutenant, and the man that had prepared them for slow traveling himself on his litter, from the lance-wound received in defence of prisoners! When they reached Puebla, the Doctor's wound proved the worst in the party. He was taken to the Government house, but the old General, in gratitude for his generous services, had him conveyed to his own house. General Childs, American commander at Puebla, hearing of the generosity of his prisoner, discharged him without making any terms, and the old general became the principle nurse of his captor and benefactor, dividing his attention between him and his son, who lay wounded in an adjoining room. This illness of our hero was long and doubtful, and he was reported dead to his friends at home.

When he recovered and returned, he was employed in the Coast Survey. While engaged in this service, the government by its correspondence with Lady Franklin became committed for an attempt at the rescue of Sir John and his illustrated companions in Arctic discovery. Nothing could be better addressed to the Doctor's governing sentiments than this adventure. The enterprise of Sir John ran exactly in the current of one of his own enthusiasms—the service of natural science combined with heroic personal effort; and, added to this, that sort of patriotism which charges itself with its own full share in the execution of national engagements of honor; and besides this cordial assumption of his country's debts and duties, there was the little force in the appeal of a nobly brave spirited woman to the chivalry of the American navy.

He was "bathing in the tepid waters of the Gulf of Mexico, on the 12th of May, 1850," when he received his telegraphic order to proceed forthwith to New York, for duty upon the Arctic expedition. In nine days from that date he was beyond the limit of the United States on his dismal voyage to the North Pole. Of this first American expedition, as is well known to the public, he was the surgeon, the naturalist, and the historian. It returned disappointed of its main object, after a winter in the regions of eternal ice and a fifteen months' absence.

Scarcely allowing himself a day to recover from the hardships of this cruise, he set on foot the second attempt, from which he has returned, after verifying by actual observation the long questioned existence of an open sea beyond the latitude of 82deg., and beyond the temperature, also, of 100deg. below the freezing point. His "Personal Narrative," published early in 1853, recounts the adventures of the first voyage, and discovers diversified qualifications for such an enterprise.

The last voyage occupied two winters in the highest latitudes, and two years and a half of unremitted labor, with the risks and responsibilities attendant. He is now preparing the history for publication. But that part of it which best reports his own personal agency, and would most justly present the man to the reader, will of course be suppressed. We would gladly supply it, but as yet this is impossible to us. His journal is private property, the extracts which we may expect will be only too shy of egotism, and his companions have not spoken yet, as some day they will speak, of his conduct throughout the terrible struggles which together they endured.

To form anything like an adequate estimate of this last achievement, it is to be recollected that this whole company amounted to but twenty men, and that of this corps or crew he was the commander, in naval phrase; and when we are appraised that his portfolio of scenery, sketched on the spot in pencil, and in water colors kept fluid over a spirit-lamp, amounts to over three hundred sketches, we have a hint of the extent and variety of the offices he filled on his voyage. He was in fact the surgeon, sailing-master, astronomer and naturalist, as well as captain and leader of the expedition.

He has escaped with whole bones from all his adventures, but he has several wounds which heaviest sledge journey ever performed—and the wildest life that civilized man has successfully undergone; and to return after all to tell the story of his adventures.

The secret spring of all this energy is an his religious enthusiasm discovered alike in the generous spirit of his adventures in pursuit of science, in his enthusiastic fidelity to duty, and to his heroic maintenance of the point of honor in all his intercourse with men.

Dr. Kane's Narrative of the Expedition, now preparing, and in process of publication by Messrs Childs & Peterson of Philadelphia, will embrace the important discoveries made in the frozen regions far beyond the reach of all the predecessors of the American exploring party, and their perilous adventures, crowded with romantic incidents, in the language of the Secretary of the Navy, "not only excite our wonder, but borrow a novel grandeur from the truly benevolent considerations which animated and nerved him to his task."—Graham's Magazine, Feb., 1856.

The people of Kansas "had a legal Territorial Legislature," which the Free State men set at naught, and in defiance of the "laws and authorities" formed a constitution and State government.—Democrat.

The people of Kansas had not a "legal" Territorial Legislature. The men chosen as members of the Legislature, by the votes of border ruffians from Missouri, were no more legal representatives of the people of Kansas, than men would be legal representatives in the Legislature of Maine who should be chosen by a gang of rowdies from New Hampshire who might take violent possession of our ballot boxes. No—not even if Gov Wells, (as he were his province to give certificates of elections) should certify to the proper election of a part or the whole of them, before he knew the circumstances. The Missourians controlled the ballot boxes of Kansas in direct violation of the organic act, and anybody elected by them cannot therefore in spirit and in truth be "legal" representatives, in the Legislature of that Territory, although they give themselves the semblance of legality, by citing the certificates issued to some of them by Gov. Reeder, before the fraud was known, and the admission of the others by these same fraudulently elected men. The difficulty is that the people had no remedy for this usurpation, except in exercising their own sovereignty and taking measures for a State government. We contend they acted rightly in so doing, and that they acted rightly in refusing submission to the outrageous black laws and to the entire authority of the usurping scoundrels, who are determined to fasten slavery upon them by violence.

We shall publish to-morrow some of the evidence taken by the Kansas Commission but a faint specimen of what has been brought out, but we think few will read it and then say that the people of Kansas ought to be dragooned into obeying "laws and authorities" thus forced upon them.

BUTTER. A New York butter dealer, in a communication to the New York Journal of Commerce says—

Every speculation in the article for the last twenty years has resulted disastrously to its author, and the farmers have reaped the benefit. It is estimated by competent authority that over $300,000 have been lost the past winter by operators here and in the country. There is not a single instance known to the writer of a butter-buyer in the country having made a fortune at the business; but there are numerous instances of a fortune being lost. "Old" butter can be bought to-day for 15 cents, which cost 28 cents at the farmer's door last November.

We have no means of testing the entire accuracy of this statement, but it has generally been admitted that monopolies in articles of food, and speculations in hoarding up the prime articles of living for a rise, have resulted disastrously.

We understand that the fine brig, at the ship yard of Messrs. Saunders & Blake, above ferry way, on the Brewer side, will be launched at high water to-day, between 11 and 12 o'clock.

Walker's Recognition.

This step, if taken in connection with the dismissal of Mr. Crampton, the British representative here—which dismissal is now detected upon—it is believed by sagacious statesmen will have the effect of reviving Lord Palmerston's power, which is tottering to its fall, and of seriously complicating our relations with all the European Governments. Indeed it cannot be disguised that the most momentous consequences may ensue, involving the peace of this country in various quarters, and inviting entanglements and disputes which cannot at this time be appreciated by the public. A profound cessation will necessarily be created throughout Europe, leading to new and formidable combinations against the United States. It is by far the gravest complication since the Oregon difficulty.

HANDLE RACE.—A novel and exciting foot hurdle race came off over the Lynn Trotting Park, Tuesday, between Walter Ferguson and Mosley Free, both of New York. The distance run was ten miles, for a purse of $400, and some 1,500 or 1,600 persons witnessed the sport. During the race the participants were to leap 1,000 hurdles, 20 inches in height. The race was won by Mosley Free—time, 1h. 50m. 44s. Ferguson gave out upon the ninth mile, completely exhausted.

The Party of the "Nullifiers."

FRANCIS P. BLAIR has written a long letter to the New York Republican in which he gives a minute and interesting account of the process by which the old Jackson Democratic party was transferred over to the slavery propagandists, under the lead of Calhoun, and made to assume the position of the Champion of Slavery, which it has ever since maintained. He gives many extracts from letters written to him by General Jackson, showing the strong repugnance which the General felt towards the movement during its progress. The successful attempt of Calhoun and the nullifiers to control Mr. Polk, by holding over his head, during a portion of the canvass, the nomination of Tyler, is referred to, and a full account given of the intrigue by which Blair was ousted from the Globe, and the nullifiers placed in charge of the official organ of the administration. Mr. Blair then goes on to shew that the "democracy proper," as Gen. Jackson styled it, has been completely overslaughed, and that the party is now entirely in the hands of another set of men. The roll-call of pro-slavery whigs and nullifiers who now take the lead, must be a startling one to Jackson Democrats. For instance, there are Hunter Mason and Wise of Virginia, Clingman of N. C., Toombs and Stephens of Georgia, Jones of Tennessee, Butler of S. C., Atchison of Missouri, Soule of Louisiana, Cushing of Massachusetts, Jefferson Davis of Mississippi, and others. We copy the conclusion of Mr. Blair's letter.—Kennebec Journal.

"What a revolution in the course of the first half century has slavery wrought, in the principles that gave birth to our Republic! Freedom was the basis of that Republic. It is now insisted that the Constitution carries the principle of bondage wherever its flag makes an acquisition. The Democratic party made Jefferson the apostle of its faith. Compare the Kansas act with the Declaration of Independence, and the Ordinance of 1787. In his first paper, Mr Jefferson asserts the rights of humanity—in the other, excludes slavery from all the Territories of the Union. The Kansas act would spread it over the continent, and to effect it, establishes a new system of politics and morals for the Democratic party, for which it is prescribed as a test.

"It is Democratic now to break faith plighted between the States, in compacts made to preserve the Union and its peace.

"It is Democratic now to break faith with constituents, and violate the representative principle on which our republics are all founded.

"It is Democratic now to disobey the instructions of constituent bodies, and exert the force of government to defeat the efforts of the people to redress the wrong committed by one set of representatives, by turning them out and choosing another:

"It is Democratic now, after nullifying the clause authorizing Congress to make rules and regulations for the Territories, and all the compromises regulating their mode of settlement, and interpolating the new principle of non-intervention as the substitute, to connive at the use of armed force to defeat the new law—to drive the settlers from the polls, where they were invited to decide the question of slavery, to introduce voters from a slave State to make slavery on their entering against the will of the rightful voters, the actual settlers—and to elect a Legislature representing the slave-holders of the invading State, to usurp the government of the Territory, repeal the organic act of Congress, and destroy the rights guaranteed under it.

"It is Democratic now to defend the establishment of test oaths, requiring all settlers opposed to slavery to swear allegiance to a law they hold to be unconstitutional, to entitle them to suffrage, and enabling those not entitled to vote as settlers, to avoid taking the oath of residence, on which the right of suffrage depends, by paying a dollar as a substitute for all other qualifications.

"It is Democratic now to expel as aliens, patriots invited by the act of Congress to settle the Territory, and to intimidate emigrants opposed to slavery from entering, by examples of Lynch law which would disgrace barbarians.

"It is Democracy now to pass sedition laws, prohibiting discussion and the denial of slaveownership where slavery was not authorized, denouncing the penalty of death against that, as a crime, which the organic law depated as a duty to be performed by the people.

"It is Democracy now in a President to sanction this reign of terror established by force of arms, and a usurpation made to triumph over the laws of the United States, by a series of provisions publicly prepared, announced in advance, and occupying more than a year in accomplishing their object, and yet not to raise a finger to avert the wrong, but after its consummation to proclaim that he would use all the force of the Union, of the army, and the militia, if necessary, to maintain it.

"Against this spurious Democracy, which has thus perfected its system in the Kansas Act, and made it their test, I, as a Democrat of the Jefferson, Jackson, and Van Buren school, enter my protest.

F. P. BLAIR."

New Publications.

SALAD FOR THE SOLITARY. By the author of "Salad for the Solitary." With numerous illustrations, handsomely printed. Cloth gilt, $1 25. New York: DeWitt & Davenport. 1856.

We cannot better describe this interesting volume than in the words of the author himself.

"Most readers—readers con amore, have a snug little corner in the storehouse of memory, in which they treasure up choice passages of their favorite authors. It requires more than a mental process to reduce such a heterogeneous collection to something like order. The present volume, with its antecedent, originated in some such an attempt. It is the fruitage of many pleasant, recreative hours spent in the highways and by-ways of literature. Whenever attempting thought-blossom decoyed me by its alluring beauty, the prize was captured to enrich and grace our collection. Somewhere after the manner of Old Burton, these chapters are full of quotations—being compounded mainly of the thoughts of others—a species of literary amalgam—thus presenting the essence of many minds instead of one.

The present work might not inaptly be styled an old volume, were it not intended to be seen with its predecessor, of which, indeed, it forms the counterpart. It is odd in its plan and arrangements, consists of odd sayings, and selections from many odd and out-of-the way authors. It is, moreover, dated for odd readers, and odd half-hours, and, oddly enough, is the handiwork of a very odd specimen of an author. Oddities are not, however, without their use; they sometimes dispel ennui, the headache, and even the pessimist."

This touches the highest endowment of literary men.

In City Council.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, May 19.

Petition of Henry Veale and others, for a school house near Lane Street, was referred to Committee on Public Schools.

Ordered, That the Com. on Public School be and are hereby directed to ascertain what arrangements, if any, can be made to exchange the School house lot on Union Street, near the Baker tavern, for a lot of Saml. H. Dale on Fourth street, or for a lot of Jabez True on Cedar Street, or for any other lot in that locality, and report upon the same at the next meeting of the City Council.

Ordered, That the Street Commissioner be, and he is hereby directed to cause Franklin Bridge to be forthwith rebuilt by contract or otherwise, according to the grade thereof as at present established, and upon the lines of said Franklin Street as now laid out, was passed in Board of Aldermen; but not acted on in Common Council.

Remonstrances were received from I. D. Bartlett, in behalf of Bangor Light Infantry, and of Luther Eaton and others of the Rifle Company against the adverse action of the City Government on the question of providing armories. The first remonstrance sets forth the circumstances under which the Light Infantry was organized, and by virtue of which encouragement said and might reasonably be expected from the City. These remonstrances were referred to the committee on By-Laws and Police Regulations, and the report of the same Committee on the petition of the Grattan Guards, in reference to the same matter, was recommitted.

Report of Street Engineers, (to whom a former report was recommited) upon the grade of Franklin Bridge with plans and estimates of cost for rebuilding the same, and was read in Board of Aldermen and sent down. The cost will be $2,125, and if the easterly termination is carried down stream, the cost will be $3,155 besides some extra land damage.

In Board of Aldermen license was granted A Drummond and others to put up a Stationary Steam Engine at Drummond's Mills.—Adjourned till Monday, June 2d 2½ P. M.

Refusal to Investigate the Killing of the Irish Waiter.

Our Congressional record has shown the fact that the House of Representatives on Wednesday last, by a vote of 79 to 70, refused to inquire into the killing of the Irish waiter at Willard's Hotel, by Mr. Herbert, an Alabamian and a member of Congress.

The circumstances of the affair were such that Herbert ought to be expelled from the House; but when Mr. Knowlton a Republican member from Maine moves to make the necessary inquiries, the administration democrats rally to their colleague's defence, and in this house, get help enough to refuse the inquiry and keep him in his seat. The Republicans present all voted for the inquiry. Killing an Irishman is apparently regarded by those southern lordlings and their friends quite as innocent an amusement as flogging, shooting or burning a "nigger slave."

A New York paper says of this Congressional report to investigate

Mr. Knowlton of Maine has done the country a service for which he will receive the silent but heartfelt thanks of thousands. It is another unpretending and distasteful for a member of a public body to propose an inquisition into the conduct of a fellow member, where the bare fact of inquiry, however cautiously worded, implies reprimand and foreshadows condemnation. To ask the House to inquire, through its Judiciary Committee, into the slaughter of Keating, its provocation and incidents, is, in effect, to move the expulsion of Herbert, from the seat which his deed has forfeited—to brave the sentiment of fellowship and the resentment not only of the insulted, but of his friends and associates. The member who makes a motion like Mr. Knowlton's of yesterday, sacrifices personal quiet and popularity to a stern conviction of propriety and duty, and his act should be duly appreciated.

The House, by a majority of nine, voted not to inquire into the murderous affray at Washington's but to treat Mr Herbert exactly as if it had not occurred. Eighty-three Members failed to respond to their names on the call of the Yeas and Nays. Had the House been full, the result might have been different. But we are not complaining of the decision. Seventy members declared by their votes that they judged it improper that a Member who had taken the life of a fellow-being under circumstances which constrained a partial Court to hold him up bail in a sum of $10,000 to answer for the homicide before a jury of his peers, should resume and retain his seat without at least an inquiry by the House in behalf of its own purity and honor. Seventy-nine voted the reverse of this. Each who was present had a fair opportunity to place himself right on the record. That record will show to all time—unless some expunging process is resorted to—who was on this side, who on that. We commend it to the thoughtful consideration of the several constituencies.

Of the Members who voted for Mr Banks as Speaker, we believe one only (Mr Tyson of Philadelphia) voted yesterday to stifle the inquiry proposed by Mr. Knowlton into the killing of Keating by Herbert. Of those who voted against Banks, Messrs. Kelly of this city, Humphrey Marshall of Ky. and Williams of Rochester are all we recognize as against the motion to suppress Mr. Knowlton's resolution.

AWKWARD.—A young and very handsome lady was a few days since a passenger in an omnibus in New York, in which was a party of Spaniards, who began in their own language a rather particular discussion of her charms. They continued it without restraint until they reached their destination. In getting out, one of them happened to step upon her dress. What was his astonishment to hear her very quietly inform him of that fact in frightful good Castilian. Their astonishment and embarrassment, chagrin, and excuses and apologies, are all in that long catalogue of things which "can only be imagined."

NARROW ESCAPE.—A son of Warren Coffin, aged about ten years, one day last week fell into a pit about ten feet deep, used for supplying water for a brick yard, and came near being drowned. Some other boys who were at play with young Coffin, gave the alarm to Mr. Aaron D Thurn, who plunged into the pit and rescued the lad after he had sunk several times.—Lewiston Journal.

A LARGE OFFER.—We are informed that while the bark Afton, Capt. Arther, of this port, was cruising on the African coast, he was offered the enormous sum of $120,000 for his vessel. The Afton is a fine clipper bark of two hundred and fifty tons, and would doubtless have proved of value for the purpose for which her possession was desirable, that of a slaver.—New Bedford Mercury.

The pro-slavery politicians of the Douglas stamp insist that Kansas shall not be admitted with its present free Constitution, because it is supposed not to have the population requisite in a State for a representative district, namely, 93,000 inhabitants. This is a brian new rule, conjured up for the occasion. It certainly is not required by the constitution, which expressly declares that a State shall have at least one representative, whatever may be its population. And as every State had the then representative population, this clause was manifestly not designed to meet any case that then existed, but to meet any that might afterwards arise. Upon this understanding, Congress has acted in nearly every case that has since arisen. Thus, Florida was admitted when she had only 27,948 inhabitants. Even at the present moment, Florida does not possess a population equal to the representative ratio, and, tried by this test, she should be excluded—but as she is slave-holding, this is, of course, not to be thought of. Douglas's new precedent is only intended to impede the admission of States coming with free Constitutions.

Now is Florida alone in the fact of her admission with less than half a representative population. Indiana had only 21,890 when that State came in, Louisiana 34,311, Mississippi 42,176, including slaves, Michigan 31,366, Arkansas 25,671, &c., &c. In all these matches, the actual population was very far below, in all but one instance, about one-half of the ratio of the representation. Kansas already numbers at least two-thirds of the present total, and before Congress meets again will, in all probability, exceed the arbitrary number named by Douglas. There is therefore no force in this factious objection, either in the Constitution, in precedent, or in justice. The opposition is to the free Constitution, and not to the want of population.—Atlas.

THE NEW PARENT BILL.—The York Tribune says:

We have already stated that the Woodworth Planing Machine is not effected by this new bill, having had two renewals already, and so being too old to be covered by its provisions.—We also learn that McCormick's Reaping Machine, for which an extension is asked, is not reached by this bill, though this is one of the two patents (Adams's Printing Press being the other) which the Senate's Committee have reported in favor—not of renewing, but of authorizing the Commissioner of Patents to renew if, on investigation, he shall deem such renewal just. The ground of the claim is stated in the Committee's Report to be that the patentee, when he originally applied to the Patent Office for a renewal, was met by a claim to priority of invention on the part of Obed Hussey—that this necessitated additional testimony—and that when this was presented, it was persistently rejected on the ground of informality, and that only. Mr. McCormick having thus lost his original and usual right to be heaped on the shoulders of his claim, and to show that he had deserved of his country a seven years' renewal, the Committee think it but just to revive this right, and have reported a bill accordingly.—We think the fact that the petitioner has twice, at a heavy expense to himself, achieved signal honor for his country in the two great exhibitions of the World's Industry, at London and Paris respectively, should weigh strongly in his favor.

We are not aware that any patent in which a wide interest is felt will be effected by the Senate Committee's general bill, unless Colt's Pistol patent be an exception.

A PARIS ROMANCE.—Paris is a city of wonderful occurrences. The suicides are wonderful, the lives extraordinary, and the deaths unnatural. Of the marriages there are constantly happening the drollest, the oddest, the most bizarre imaginable, of which the following is a specimen.—Madame la Comtesse Yvesses, a very rich widow, living in an aristocratic, faubourg, went daily into a populous quartiere of the city for the purpose of distributing alms.—In order not to attract attention and prevent curiosity, she was in the habit of leaving her splendid equipage and proceeding modestly in the omnibus. It was thus that upon one occasion she addressed herself to a conductor of one of the vehicles who had attracted her notice by his politeness and attention towards his passengers.

She desired him to reserve for her at a certain hour every day a place in the carriage on the step of which he pursued his avocation.—During many months the place was scrupulously preserved to the great contentment of the lady, and to testify her satisfaction to the young conductor, who, physically was remarkably prepossessing, she one day abruptly observed to him "I might easily pass for our mother, for I am beyond my fortieth year, but if my age does not frighten you, I offer you my hand in marriage and my brilliant position."

Notwithstanding this intense astonishment, the conductor took off his cap and at once accepted her offer, refusing by way of generous acknowledgement, to accept of any compensation for the distance she had already ridden. The marriage was recently celebrated. The conductor finds himself a man of 40,000 francs income and husband of a buxom person, whom it is his delight daily to promenade on the Champs Elysées in an elegant caleche drawn by a pair of expensive horses, the envy and admiration of all who see them.

It was formerly the custom, both in England and in France, as it is at the present time in the United States, to inter those who die by cholera at the earliest convenient moment after dissolution; but warned by the many fatal consequences of this proceeding, the custom of hasty interments has ceased in those countries for many years. No one can now be buried there, until a green tinge makes its appearance upon the abdominal muscles—the unmistakable sign of incipient decomposition, always first seen through that thin layer of muscles. A body might lie for four and six weeks, or more, but if this color failed to appear, the body would be returned until this unequivocal sign became apparent, or the patient had recovered.

FAMILY STOWAGE.—A recent official investigation into the occupation of what are known as "tenement houses" in New York, has resulted in showing (not for the first time) a most prolific cause of crime and degradation. In many cases, five story houses were found to contain from twenty to thirty families—mostly of low order and filthy habits. In one of the wards 121 tenement houses were found to contain 2237 families, or 18½ families to each house; and in many of the houses, a portion of the ground floor is used for a shop. In one house 112 families were found!

FAILURE AT NEWBURYPORT.—We regret to learn that, in consequence of adverse circumstances, Messrs. Currier & Townsend, for many years extensive ship-builders in Newburyport, have been compelled to suspend, with liabilities, as reported, amounting to upwards of $100,000.—Boston Times.

LADIES' MEASUREMENT.—We are curious to know how many feet in female arithmetic go to a mile, because we never met with a lady's foot yet whose shoe was not, to say the very least, "a mile too big for her."

RICH REMINISCENTS. The ship Mathilde, which arrived at New York on Thursday from Antwerp and Flushing, brought 264 passengers, who are said to bring with them $750,000 in money—more than $2500 for every man, woman and child on board.

PLEASANT ASSOCIATIONS.—The Buffalo folks some of them—are talking of making a public park by enclosing the poor house lot with the poor house playing ground.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1

The President sent to the Senate, vetoes on the bill for improvement of the Mississippi, and also the bill for the relief of Mrs. Clay; gave warning of another speech, &c.

Mr. Brooks then commenced his promised speech, on Kansas.

He said—You are now called to address a people, in which is involved, not the liberty of a distant territory but the peace of the whole country against which a crime has been committed without parallel in the records of the past. Worse than any murder by Vere against Sicily are you answerable? Is present life for your execrable crime? Are you robbery? I hold it up to scorn. Are you for the protection of Atrocity? I show you here their deeds. Rights have been clovened down, while a tyrannical usurpation has installed itself on their necks. The crime hazards civil war. I proceed from the slave power, which is unmanned. In opposing it we are not factious, as said by the Senator, from Carolina, Mr. Butler, who in the Don Quixotism of Slavery. The Senator from Illinois, Douglas, is the Esquire of Slavery—its Sancho Panza—ready to do all its base drudging. He cannot compel obedience to this usurpation. He imitates the British officer, who in bold swagger, said he would cram the stamps down the throats of the American people, he will meet with a similar failure.

Mr Sumner then considered the crime against Kansas in its origin and extent—next the apologies for the crime. Dwelling on the assault upon the Emigrant Aid Co characterized as infamous and vindicated Massachusetts.

House. The House took up Mr. Wheeler's resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to dispatch a vessel with provisions to the Cape de Verde Islands.

Mr. Kelly referred to the liberality of New York in aiding the starving people, appealed to the generous sympathy of the House to pass the resolution which asked for no appropriation of money.

Mr. Smith of Virginia while deeply feeling for their distressed condition was not willing even in this trifling particular to usurp a power not guaranteed by the constitution. He considered the sending of a ship equivalent to the appropriation of money for the purpose. Adopted by a hundred and twenty-three ayes to twenty-four nays.

Mr Galloway asked leave to introduce a resolution requesting the President to inform the House whether he has information concerning the murder of three American citizens, named Dow, Barker and Brown, late residents of Kansas, and whether legal measures have been taken for the prosecution of the murderers, and whether he has information regarding the forcible abduction of Wm. Phillips and of others being carried across to Missouri; and if there is red and feathered lakewise, with regard to the outrage on Rev Pardee Ruger who was tarred and feathered at Atchison, also well regarding the shooting of Mr Mack, whom an attempt was made to kill after he had given testimony before the House investigating committee, and whether legal steps have been taken for the prosecution of the persons engaged in the outrages; also that the President inform the House whether he has issued special instructions for the protection of American citizens in Kansas from violence and murder.

Mr Smith of Va suggested, and Mr Galloway agreed to add a clause calling for information relative to the murder of Sheriff Jones.

Mr Giddings. Better wait till he is dead.

Mr Ruffin was opposed to such a string of nonsense, and objected to its reception.

Mr Galloway moved a suspension of the rules in order that he might introduce the resolution.

The motion to suspend was lost, 92 in favor to 65 against, not two-thirds.

Mr Walker moved to discharge the committee of the whole on the state of the Union from the further consideration of the bill continuing the improvement of Mobile Harbor. Disagreed, 60 against 87, not two-thirds.

Mr Keith moved a suspension of the rules to enable him to offer a resolution for the adjournment of Congress on the 5th day of August. Negatived, 62 against 87.

Mr Wakeman introduced a bill making an appropriation for the survey of Hudson river. Referred to the committee on commerce. Adj

SENATE. The President sent to the Senate this morning, vetoes on the bills for improving the mouth of the Mississippi, and also of the St. Clair River; giving his reasons at length.

Mr. Cass gave warning of another speech on the Central American question.

Mr. Sumner then commenced his professed speech on Kansas.

He said you are now called to redress a great disturbance, in which is involved, not only the liberty of a distant territory but the peace of the whole country. Against Kansas a crime has been committed without parallel in the records of the past. Worse than anything done or borne against Sicily. Are you against savages? I present it for your execration — Are you against robbery? I hold up to your horrors. Are you for the protection of American rights? I show you here their dearest rights have been cloven down, while a tyranical usurpation has installed itself on their very necks. This crime hazards civil war. It all proceeds from the slave power, which is the criminal. In opposing it we are not fanatical or sectional, as said by the Senator from South Carolina, Mr. Butler, who is the Don Quixote of Slavery. HOUSE. The House took up Mr. Wheeler's resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to dispatch a vessel with provisions privately contributed for the Cape de Verde sufferers.

Mr. Kelly referred to the liberality of New York in aiding the starving people, appealing to the generous sympathy of the House to pass the resolution which asked for an appropriation of money.

Mr. Smith of Virginia, while deeply feeling in her distressed condition was not willing even in this trifling particular to usurp a power not guaranteed by the constitution. He considered the sending of a ship equivalent to the appropriation of money for the purpose. Adopted by a hundred and twenty-three against twenty four.

GREAT
American and Foreign Office,

—FOR—

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U S PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St, BOSTON

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS—The subscriber, late Agent of the U S Patent Office under the Act of 1837, is determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others), will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him within thirty days after the rejection

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and all accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary for the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability

R H EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

TESTIMONIALS

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R H EDDY, Esq of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had as much business before the Patent Office and there is none whereof conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office,

EDMUND BURKE
Late Commissioner of Patents"

[From the present Commissioner]

"August, 17, 1855 — During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H Eddy, Esq, of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor He is thoroughly acquainted with the law and the rules of practice of the office I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
